PREAMBLE

This scholarship report is being generated in response to the recently established Faculty of Health and Behavioural Sciences Strategic Plan (2010-2015) and two of the five strategic directions identified therein. More specifically, the Strategic Plan identified that the Faculty needed to raise its internal (i.e., within the university) and external (i.e., within the community and beyond) profile, as well as its overall research capacity and productivity. From these perspectives, this document provides a ready summary of the Faculty's research activities that can be shared with our stakeholders and it may serve as a benchmark against which similar research activities may be measured over the next five year period.

In the following pages, readers will note that reported activities are grouped by academic unit and that the faculty and staff members in each unit are listed at the beginning of their respective sections. In instances where faculty members from more than one school co-authored a paper or book chapter, scholarly presentation, or grant application, the information is repeated in each applicable academic unit summary.

It is important to note that the accuracy of the information reported in this document is dependent upon the information reported by faculty members in their May 1, 2010-April 30, 2011 Annual Reports and is limited to peer-reviewed activities and a reporting of new grant monies received for the first time from peer-reviewed external sources. In this way, multi-year grants are reported only once upon initial receipt rather than repeatedly over time.

While the format of our Annual Reports allows for the reporting of many more categories of activities (e.g., non-peer reviewed publications and presentations, internal research grant funds, research contracts, service to the community), resource limitations do not allow for their inclusion in this document. However, it is hoped that as this document evolves over time, it will indeed include a more accurate representation of all of the ongoing activities within the Faculty.
