

Lakehead University
Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities

REQUEST REPORT

Request Tracking Number: 2012-SOC-158
Request Title: Graduate Course Changes

Request Effective Date: Fall 2013
Request Status: In Workflow
 Request can't be split

Request Contents

Type		Title
1.	New Version of a Degree	Masters of Arts in History (Thesis Program)
2.	New Version of a Degree	Master of Arts in History (Specialization in Women's Studies) (Course-Work Program)
3.	New Version of a Degree	Master of Arts in History (Specialization in Women's Studies) (Thesis Program)
4.	New Version of a Degree	Master of Arts in History (Course-Work Program)
5.	New Version of a Degree	Master of Arts in History (Major Research Project Program)
6.	New Version of a Degree	Master of Arts in History (Specialization in Women's Studies) (Major Research Project Program)
7.	New Course	Canadian History
8.	New Course	Environmental History
9.	New Course	Twentieth-Century Latin American and Caribbean History
10.	New Course	International Relations in the 20th Century
11.	New Version of a Course	Special Topics
12.	New Version of a Course	Special Topics
13.	New Course	Gender History
14.	Discontinued Course	Gender Analysis and the Writing of History
15.	Discontinued Course	Research in Gender Analysis and the Writing of History
16.	Discontinued Course	France's Foreign Policy, 1890-1990
17.	Discontinued Course	Research in France's Foreign Policy, 1890-1990
18.	Discontinued Course	Research in British Social History 1870-1918
19.	Discontinued Course	Topics in Twentieth-Century Canadian History
20.	Discontinued Course	Research in Twentieth-Century Canadian History

21.	Discontinued Course	Topics in European History 1914-1945
22.	Discontinued Course	Research in European History 1914-1945
23.	Discontinued Course	Topics in Northern Ontario History
24.	Discontinued Course	International Relations in the 20th Century
25.	New Course	The History of Social Justice and Human Rights
26.	New Course	Modern South Asian History
27.	New Course	Colonialism and Neo-Colonialism in the Modern World
28.	New Course	France's Foreign Policy, 1890-1990
29.	New Course	Modern European History
30.	New Version of a Course	Independent Study
31.	New Course	Northern Ontario History
32.	New Version of a Course	Independent Study
33.	New Course	United States History
34.	Discontinued Course	Topics in British Social History 1870-1918
35.	Discontinued Course	Research in Northern Ontario History
36.	Discontinued Course	Topics in United States History
37.	Discontinued Course	Research in United States History
38.	Discontinued Course	Topics in Twentieth-Century Caribbean and Latin American History
39.	Discontinued Course	Research in Twentieth-Century Caribbean and Latin American History
40.	Discontinued Course	Research in International Relations in the 20th Century
41.	New Course	British Social History 1870-1918

Request History

Workflow Step	Workflow Action	User	Change Made	Comments	Date
Initiator	Approved	Michel Beaulieu	Yes	Submitted to workflow	12/03/2012
Dean and Faculty Council Review Stage	Approved	Gillian Siddall	No	Approved.	01/04/2013
Optional Dean-Social Sciences and Humanities	Approved	Susan Viitala	No	Approved January 8, 2013.	01/08/2013
Faculty of Graduate Studies Council	Approved	Laurie Hill	Yes	Approved at the April 9, 2013 meeting of the Faculty of Graduate Studies Council, with minor editorial revisions.	04/15/2013

Printed: 04/17/2013

Supporting Documents

File Name	Uploaded By	Upload Date	Size
-----------	-------------	-------------	------

Supporting Documents Audit Trail

File Name	User	Date	Action
-----------	------	------	--------

Notes

Date	User	Note
12/03/2012	Michel Beaulieu	The accompanying changes deal with courses; however, they also require program description changes.

1.	New Version of a Degree	MA.HIST.TH - Masters of Arts in History (Thesis Program)
----	-------------------------	--

Justification

This change results from a series of courses changes within the MA program. They result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Degree Details

CURRENT VERSION	PROPOSED VERSION
MA.HIST.TH - Masters of Arts in History (Thesis Program) Start Term: Fall 2000 End Term: No Specified End Date	MA.HIST.TH - Masters of Arts in History (Thesis Program) Start Term: Fall 2000 2013 End Term: No Specified End Date

Required Information
CURRENT VERSION	PROPOSED VERSION
Institution Unit Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities	Institution Unit Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
Degree Type MA	Degree Type MA
Major HIST	Major HIST
Minor	Minor
Specialization	Specialization
Rationale	Rationale This change results from a series of courses changes within the MA program. They result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic

	direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.
Requirements Full-time students will enroll in three half-courses from: History 5111, 5115, 5215, 5311, 5411, 5511, 5515, 5611, 5711, 5731 or 5771 in the Fall Term of study towards the Masters degree. At the end of the fall term and in consultation with the Department, they will either continue in the Major Research Project Program or make a request to the department for permission to enter the Thesis Program. THESIS PROGRAM The thesis program consists of four FCEs: (a) three half-courses chosen from: History 5111, 5115, 5215, 5311, 5411, 5511, 5515, 5611, 5711, 5731 or 5771 in the fall term; (b) one half-course from: History 5113, 5117, 5217, 5313, 5413, 5513, 5517, 5613, 5713, 5733 or 5772 in the winter term, which must be the Research continuation of one of the three Topics courses completed in the Fall Term; as well as (c) the thesis, History 5901 (9901) (equivalent to two FCEs).	Requirements Full-time students will enroll in three half-courses from: History 5111, 5115, 5215, 5311, 5411, 5511, 5515, 5611, 5711, 5731 or 5771 in the Fall Term of study towards the Masters degree. At the end of the fall term and in consultation with the Department, they will either continue in the Major Research Project Program or make a request to the department for permission to enter the Thesis Program. THESIS PROGRAM The thesis program consists of four FCEs: (a) three half-courses chosen from: History 5111, 5115, 5215, 5311, 5411, 5511, 5515, 5611, 5711, 5731 or 5771 in the fall term; (b) one half course from: History 5113, 5117, 5217, 5313, 5413, 5513, 5517, 5613, 5713, 5733 or 5772 in the winter term, which must be the Research continuation of one of the three Topics courses completed in the Fall Term; two FCEs in history at the graduate level; as well as (c) the thesis, History 5901 (9901) (equivalent to two FCEs).

Budgetary Considerations
CURRENT VERSION	PROPOSED VERSION
Student Enrolment	Student Enrolment No.
Student Enrolment Other Units	Student Enrolment Other Units No.
Additional Resources	Additional Resources No.

Teaching Loads	Teaching Loads No.
TeachingSupport Services	TeachingSupport Services No.
Outside Support	Outside Support No.

2.	New Version of a Degree	MA.HISTWOME.CO - Master of Arts in History (Specialization in Women's Studies) (Course-Work Program)
----	-------------------------	--

Justification

This change results from a series of courses changes within the MA program. They result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Degree Details

CURRENT VERSION	PROPOSED VERSION
MA.HISTWOME.CO - Master of Arts in History (Specialization in Women's Studies) (Course-Work Program) Start Term: Fall 2005 End Term: No Specified End Date	MA.HISTWOME.CO - Master of Arts in History (Specialization in Women's Studies) (Course-Work Program) Start Term: Fall 2005 2013 End Term: No Specified End Date

Required Information
CURRENT VERSION	PROPOSED VERSION
Institution Unit Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities	Institution Unit Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
Degree Type MA	Degree Type MA
Major HIST	Major HIST
Minor	Minor
Specialization WOME	Specialization WOME
Rationale	Rationale This change results from a series of courses changes within the MA program. They result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the

	research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.
Requirements COURSE-WORK PROGRAM (MA History) The course-work program consists of four FCES: (a) four of the following pairs of half-courses: History 5111 and 5113; History 5115 and 5117; History 5215 and 5217; History 5311 and 5313; History 5411 and 5413; History 5511 and 5513; History 5515 and 5517; History 5611 and 5613; History 5711 and 5713; History 5731 and 5733; or History 5771 and 5772. Specialization in Women's Studies Students in the Women's Studies Specialization will complete Women's Studies 5101, and one of the following pairs of half courses: History 5111 and 5113, or History 5215 and 5217; plus two of the following pairs of half-courses: History 5115 and 5117; History 5311 and 5313; History 5411 and 5413; History 5511 and 5513; History 5515 and 5517; History 5611 and 5613; History 5711 and 5713; History 5731 and 5733; or History 5771 and 5772, for a total of four FCES. (If neither 5111/5113 or 5215/5217 are offered during the two year period of the program, specialization students may take 5711/5713 with a topic related to Women's Studies.) Students will complete this program within 24 months of full-time study.	Requirements COURSE-WORK PROGRAM (MA History) The course-work program consists of four FCES: (a) four of the following pairs of half-courses: History 5111 and 5113; History 5115 and 5117; History 5215 and 5217; History 5311 and 5313; History 5411 and 5413; History 5511 and 5513; History 5515 and 5517; History 5611 and 5613; History 5711 and 5713; History 5731 and 5733; or History 5771 and 5772 FCES in history at the graduate level. Specialization in Women's Studies Students in the Women's Studies Specialization will complete Women's Studies 5101, and one of the following pairs of half courses: History 5111 and 5113, or History 5215 and 5217; plus two of the following pairs of half-courses: History 5115 and 5117; History 5311 and 5313; History 5411 and 5413; History 5511 and 5513; History 5515 and 5517; History 5611 and 5613; History 5711 and 5713; History 5731 and 5733; or History 5771 and 5772, for a total of four FCES. (If neither 5111/5113 or 5215/5217 are offered during the two year period of the program, specialization students may take 5711/5713 with , and three FCES in history at the graduate level including at least one FCE on a topic related to Women's Studies.) Students, for a total of four FCES. Students will complete this program within 24 months of full-time study.

Budgetary Considerations
CURRENT VERSION	PROPOSED VERSION
Student Enrolment	Student Enrolment No.
Student Enrolment Other Units	Student Enrolment Other Units No.

Additional Resources	Additional Resources No.
Teaching Loads	Teaching Loads No.
TeachingSupport Services	TeachingSupport Services No.
Outside Support	Outside Support No.

3.	New Version of a Degree	MA.HISTWOME.TH - Master of Arts in History (Specialization in Women's Studies) (Thesis Program)
----	-------------------------	---

Justification

This change results from a series of courses changes within the MA program. They result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Degree Details

CURRENT VERSION	PROPOSED VERSION
MA.HISTWOME.TH - Master of Arts in History (Specialization in Women's Studies) (Thesis Program) Start Term: Fall 2000 End Term: No Specified End Date	MA.HISTWOME.TH - Master of Arts in History (Specialization in Women's Studies) (Thesis Program) Start Term: Fall 2000 2013 End Term: No Specified End Date

Required Information
CURRENT VERSION	PROPOSED VERSION
Institution Unit Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities	Institution Unit Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
Degree Type MA	Degree Type MA
Major HIST	Major HIST
Minor	Minor
Specialization WOME	Specialization WOME
Rationale	Rationale This change results from a series of courses changes within the MA program. They result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the

	research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.
Requirements Full-time students will enroll in three half-courses from: History 5111, 5115, 5215, 5311, 5411, 5511, 5515, 5611, 5711, 5731 or 5771 in the Fall Term of study towards the Masters degree. At the end of the fall term and in consultation with the Department, they will either continue in the Major Research Project Program or make a request to the department for permission to enter the Thesis Program. THESIS PROGRAM (MA History) The thesis program consists of four FCEs: (a) three half-courses chosen from: History 5111, 5115, 5215, 5311, 5411, 5511, 5515, 5611, 5711, 5731 or 5771 in the fall term; (b) one half-course from: History 5113, 5117, 5217, 5313, 5413, 5513, 5517, 5613, 5713, 5733 or 5772 in the winter term, which must be the Research continuation of one of the three Topics courses completed in the Fall Term; as well as (c) the thesis, History 5901 (9901) (equivalent to two FCEs). Specialization in Women's Studies Students in the Women's Studies Specialization will complete Women's Studies 5101; two half-courses from: History 5111, 5115, 5215, 5311, 5411, 5511, 5515, 5611, 5711, 5731 or 5771 in the fall term; as well as the thesis, History 5901 (equivalent to two FCEs) on a topic related to Women's Studies, for a total of four FCEs. Students will complete this program in 24 months of full-time study.	Requirements Full-time students will enroll in three half-courses from: History 5111, 5115, 5215, 5311, 5411, 5511, 5515, 5611, 5711, 5731 or 5771 in the Fall Term of study towards the Masters degree. At the end of the fall term and in consultation with the Department, they will either continue in the Major Research Project Program or make a request to the department for permission to enter the Thesis Program. THESIS PROGRAM (MA History) The thesis program consists of four FCEs: (a) three half-courses chosen from: History 5111, 5115, 5215, 5311, 5411, 5511, 5515, 5611, 5711, 5731 or 5771 in the fall term; (b) one half-course from: History 5113, 5117, 5217, 5313, 5413, 5513, 5517, 5613, 5713, 5733 or 5772 in the winter term, which must be the Research continuation of one of the three Topics courses completed in the Fall Term; two FCEs in history at the graduate level; as well as (c) the thesis, History 5901 (9901) (equivalent to two FCEs). Specialization in Women's Studies Students in the Women's Studies Specialization will complete Women's Studies 5101; two half-courses from: History 5111, 5115, 5215, 5311, 5411, 5511, 5515, 5611, 5711, 5731 or 5771 in the fall term and one FCE in history at the graduate level; as well as the thesis History 5901, (equivalent to two FCEs) on a topic related to Women's Studies, for a total of four FCEs. Students will complete this program in 24 months of full-time study.

Budgetary Considerations
CURRENT VERSION	PROPOSED VERSION
Student Enrolment	Student Enrolment

	No.
Student Enrolment Other Units	Student Enrolment Other Units No.
Additional Resources	Additional Resources No.
Teaching Loads	Teaching Loads No.
TeachingSupport Services	TeachingSupport Services No.
Outside Support	Outside Support No.

4.	New Version of a Degree	MA.HIST.CO - Master of Arts in History (Course-Work Program)
----	-------------------------	--

Justification

This change results from a series of courses changes within the MA program. They result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Degree Details

CURRENT VERSION	PROPOSED VERSION
MA.HIST.CO - Master of Arts in History (Course-Work Program) Start Term: Fall 2005 End Term: No Specified End Date	MA.HIST.CO - Master of Arts in History (Course-Work Program) Start Term: Fall 2005 2013 End Term: No Specified End Date

Required Information
CURRENT VERSION	PROPOSED VERSION
Institution Unit Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities	Institution Unit Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
Degree Type MA	Degree Type MA
Major HIST	Major HIST
Minor	Minor
Specialization	Specialization
Rationale	Rationale This change results from a series of courses changes within the MA program. They result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic

	direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.
Requirements The course-work program consists of four FCES: (a) four of the following pairs of half-courses: History 5111 and 5113 ; History 5115 and 5117 ; History 5215 and 5217 ; History 5311 and 5313 ; History 5411 and 5413 ; History 5511 and 5513 ; History 5515 and 5517 ; History 5611 and 5613 ; History 5711 and 5713 ; History 5731 and 5733 ; or History 5771 and 5772 .	Requirements COURSE-WORK PROGRAM The course-work program consists of four FCES : (a) four of the following pairs of half-courses: History 5111 and 5113; History 5115 and 5117; History 5215 and 5217; History 5311 and 5313; History 5411 and 5413; History 5511 and 5513; History 5515 and 5517; History 5611 and 5613; History 5711 and 5713; History 5731 and 5733; or History 5771 and 5772 FCEs in history at the graduate level.

Budgetary Considerations
CURRENT VERSION	PROPOSED VERSION
Student Enrolment	Student Enrolment No.
Student Enrolment Other Units	Student Enrolment Other Units No.
Additional Resources	Additional Resources No.
Teaching Loads	Teaching Loads No.
TeachingSupport Services	TeachingSupport Services No.
Outside Support	Outside Support No.

5.	New Version of a Degree	MA.HIST.PR - Master of Arts in History (Major Research Project Program)
----	-------------------------	---

Justification

This change results from a series of courses changes within the MA program. They result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Degree Details

CURRENT VERSION	PROPOSED VERSION
MA.HIST.PR - Master of Arts in History (Major Research Project Program) Start Term: Fall 2010 End Term: No Specified End Date	MA.HIST.PR - Master of Arts in History (Major Research Project Program) Start Term: Fall 2010 2013 End Term: No Specified End Date

Required Information
CURRENT VERSION	PROPOSED VERSION
Institution Unit Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities	Institution Unit Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
Degree Type MA	Degree Type MA
Major HIST	Major HIST
Minor	Minor
Specialization	Specialization
Rationale	Rationale This change results from a series of courses changes within the MA program. They result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases,

	ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.
Requirements Full-time students will enroll in three half-courses from: History 5111, 5115, 5215, 5311, 5411, 5511, 5515, 5611, 5711, 5731 or 5771 in the Fall Term of study towards the Masters degree. At the end of the fall term and in consultation with the Department, they will either continue in the Major Research Project Program or make a request to the department for permission to enter the Thesis Program. MAJOR RESEARCH PROJECT PROGRAM The major research project program consists of four FCEs: (a) three of the following pairs of half-courses: History 5111 and 5113; History 5115 and 5117; History 5215 and 5217; History 5311 and 5313; History 5411 and 5413; History 5511 and 5513; History 5515 and 5517; History 5611 and 5613; History 5711 and 5713; History 5731 and 5733; or History 5771 and 5772; as well as (b) the major research project, History 5800 (9800) (one full course).	Requirements Full-time students will enroll in three half-courses from: History 5111, 5115, 5215, 5311, 5411, 5511, 5515, 5611, 5711, 5731 or 5771 in the Fall Term of study towards the Masters degree. At the end of the fall term and in consultation with the Department, they will either continue in the Major Research Project Program or make a request to the department for permission to enter the Thesis Program. MAJOR RESEARCH PROJECT PROGRAM The major research project program consists of four FCEs: (a) three of the following pairs of half-courses: History 5111 and 5113; History 5115 and 5117; History 5215 and 5217; History 5311 and 5313; History 5411 and 5413; History 5511 and 5513; History 5515 and 5517; History 5611 and 5613; History 5711 and 5713; History 5731 and 5733; or History 5771 and 5772; FCEs in history at the graduate level; as well as (b) the major research project, History 5800 (9800) (one full course FCE).

Budgetary Considerations
CURRENT VERSION	PROPOSED VERSION
Student Enrolment	Student Enrolment No.
Student Enrolment Other Units	Student Enrolment Other Units No.
Additional Resources	Additional Resources No.

Teaching Loads	Teaching Loads No.
TeachingSupport Services	TeachingSupport Services No.
Outside Support	Outside Support No.

6.	New Version of a Degree	MA.HISTWOME.PR - Master of Arts in History (Specialization in Women's Studies) (Major Research Project Program)
----	-------------------------	---

Justification

This change results from a series of courses changes within the MA program. They result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Degree Details

CURRENT VERSION	PROPOSED VERSION
MA.HISTWOME.PR - Master of Arts in History (Specialization in Women's Studies) (Major Research Project Program) Start Term: Fall 2010 End Term: No Specified End Date	MA.HISTWOME.PR - Master of Arts in History (Specialization in Women's Studies) (Major Research Project Program) Start Term: Fall 2010 2013 End Term: No Specified End Date

Required Information
CURRENT VERSION	PROPOSED VERSION
Institution Unit Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities	Institution Unit Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
Degree Type MA	Degree Type MA
Major HIST	Major HIST
Minor	Minor
Specialization WOME	Specialization WOME
Rationale	Rationale This change results from a series of courses changes within the MA program. They result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the

	research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.
Requirements Full-time students will enroll in three half-courses from: History 5111, 5115, 5215, 5311, 5411, 5511, 5515, 5611, 5711, 5731 or 5771 in the Fall Term of study towards the Masters degree. At the end of the fall term and in consultation with the Department, they will either continue in the Major Research Project Program or make a request to the department for permission to enter the Thesis Program. MAJOR RESEARCH PROJECT PROGRAM (MA History) The major research project program consists of four FCEs: (a) three of the following pairs of half-courses: History 5111 and 5113; History 5115 and 5117; History 5215 and 5217; History 5311 and 5313; History 5411 and 5413; History 5511 and 5513; History 5515 and 5517; History 5611 and 5613; History 5711 and 5713; History 5731 and 5733; or History 5771 and 5772; as well as (b) the major research project, History 5800 (9800) (one full course). Specialization in Women's Studies The major research project program consists of four FCEs. Students in the Women's Studies Specialization will complete: (a) Women's Studies 5101; (b) two of the following pairs of half-courses: History 5111 and 5113; History 5115 and 5117; History 5215 and 5217; History 5311 and 5313; History 5411 and 5413; History 5511 and 5513; History 5515 and 5517; History 5611 and 5613; History 5711 and 5713; History 5731 and 5733; or History 5771 and 5772; as well as (c) the major research project, History 5800 (one FCE) on a topic related to Women's Studies, for a total of four FCEs.	Requirements Full-time students will enroll in three half-courses from: History 5111, 5115, 5215, 5311, 5411, 5511, 5515, 5611, 5711, 5731 or 5771 in the Fall Term of study towards the Masters degree. At the end of the fall term and in consultation with the Department, they will either continue in the Major Research Project Program or make a request to the department for permission to enter the Thesis Program.MAJOR RESEARCH PROJECT PROGRAM (MA History) The major research project program consists of four FCEs: (a) three of the following pairs of half-courses: History 5111 and 5113; History 5115 and 5117; History 5215 and 5217; History 5311 and 5313; History 5411 and 5413; History 5511 and 5513; History 5515 and 5517; History 5611 and 5613; History 5711 and 5713; History 5731 and 5733; or History 5771 and 5772; as well as (b) the major research project, History 5800 (9800) (one full course FCE). Specialization in Women's Studies The major research project program consists of four FCEs. Students in the Women's Studies Specialization will complete: (a) Women's Studies 5101 (one FCE); (b) two of the following pairs of half-courses: History 5111 and 5113; History 5115 and 5117; History 5215 and 5217; History 5311 and 5313; History 5411 and 5413; History 5511 and 5513; History 5515 and 5517; History 5611 and 5613; History 5711 and 5713; History 5731 and 5733; or History 5771 and 5772; as well as (c) the major research project, History 5800 (9800) (one FCE) on on a topic related to Women's Studies, for a total of four FCEs.

Budgetary Considerations
CURRENT VERSION	PROPOSED VERSION
Student Enrolment	Student Enrolment No.
Student Enrolment Other Units	Student Enrolment Other Units No.
Additional Resources	Additional Resources No.
Teaching Loads	Teaching Loads No.
TeachingSupport Services	TeachingSupport Services No.
Outside Support	Outside Support No.

7.	New Course	History 5301 - Canadian History
----	------------	---------------------------------

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

History 5301 - Canadian History Start Term: Fall 2013 End Term: No Specified End Date

Course Details
Code History 5301
Title Canadian History
Description Examines selected topics in the history of Canada. Students will carry out an intensive research project using available primary materials in order to develop their research and analytical skills.
End Term No Specified End Date
Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 1.0
Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Requiredor Elective
Cross List
Offering 3-0; 3-0
Prerequisites
Corequisites
Notes
SpecialTopicDropdown
GradeSchemePF
EffectonEnrolmentINIT No.
EffectonEnrolmentOTHER No.
AdditionalTeachingSpace No.
EffectonTeachingLoads No.
EffectonServices No.
DirectinkindSupport No.

8.	New Course	History 5760 - Environmental History
----	------------	--------------------------------------

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

History 5760 - Environmental History Start Term: Fall 2013 End Term: No Specified End Date
--

Course Details
Code History 5760
Title Environmental History
Description Examines selected topics in world environmental history since the nineteenth century. Students will do an independent research project in the second term of the course.
End Term No Specified End Date
Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 1.0
Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Requiredor Elective
Cross List
Offering 3-0; 3-0
Prerequisites
Corequisites
Notes
SpecialTopicDropdown
GradeSchemePF
EffectonEnrolmentINIT No.
EffectonEnrolmentOTHER No.
AdditionalTeachingSpace No.
EffectonTeachingLoads No.
EffectonServices No.
DirectinkindSupport No.

9.	New Course	History 5520 - Twentieth-Century Latin American and Caribbean History
----	------------	---

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

History 5520 - Twentieth-Century Latin American and Caribbean History Start Term: Fall 2013 End Term: No Specified End Date

Course Details
Code History 5520
Title Twentieth-Century Latin American and Caribbean History
Description Examines historical problems and the methodology used by historians in the study of international relations during the twentieth century. Students will carry out intensive research in order to develop their research and analytical skills.
End Term No Specified End Date
Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 1.0
Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Required or Elective
Cross List
Offering 3-0; 3-0
Prerequisites
Corequisites
Notes
Special Topic Dropdown
Grade Scheme PF
Effect on Enrolment INIT No.
Effect on Enrolment OTHER No.
Additional Teaching Space No.
Effect on Teaching Loads No.
Effect on Services No.
Direct kind Support No.

10.	New Course	History 5762 - International Relations in the 20th Century
-----	------------	--

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

History 5762 - International Relations in the 20th Century Start Term: Fall 2013 End Term: No Specified End Date
--

Course Details
Code History 5762
Title International Relations in the 20th Century
Description Examines historical problems and the methodology used by historians in the study of international relations during the twentieth century. Students will carry out intensive research in order to develop their research and analytical skills.
End Term No Specified End Date
Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 1.0
Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Required or Elective
Cross List
Offering 3-0; 3-0
Prerequisites
Corequisites
Notes
Special Topic Dropdown
Grade Scheme PF
Effect on Enrolment INIT No.
Effect on Enrolment OTHER No.
Additional Teaching Space No.
Effect on Teaching Loads No.
Effect on Services No.
Direct kind Support No.

11.	New Version of a Course	History 5731 - Special Topics
-----	-------------------------	-------------------------------

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

CURRENT VERSION	PROPOSED VERSION
History 5731 - Special Topics Start Term: Fall 2012 End Term: No Specified End Date	History 5731 - Special Topics Start Term: Fall 2012 2013 End Term: No Specified End Date

Course Details
CURRENT VERSION	PROPOSED VERSION
Code History 5731	Code History 5731
Title Special Topics	Title Special Topics
Description The focus will be determined by the needs and interests of the participating students and faculty.	Description The focus of the course will be determined by the needs and interests of the participating students and faculty.
End Term No Specified End Date	End Term No Specified End Date
Institution Lakehead University	Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities	Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 0.5	CreditWeight 0.5
Rationale	Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program

	both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.
Requiredor Elective	Requiredor Elective
Cross List	Cross List
Offering 3-0; 0-0	Offering 3-0; 0-0
Prerequisites	Prerequisites
Corequisites	Corequisites
Notes	Notes
SpecialTopicDropdown	SpecialTopicDropdown Yes
GradeSchemePF	GradeSchemePF
EffectonEnrolmentINIT	EffectonEnrolmentINIT No.
EffectonEnrolmentOTHER	EffectonEnrolmentOTHER No.
AdditionalTeachingSpace	AdditionalTeachingSpace No.
EffectonTeachingLoads	EffectonTeachingLoads No.
EffectonServices	EffectonServices No.
DirectinkindSupport	DirectinkindSupport No.

12.	New Version of a Course	History 5733 - Special Topics
-----	-------------------------	-------------------------------

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

CURRENT VERSION	PROPOSED VERSION
History 5733 - Research in Special Topics Start Term: Fall 2012 End Term: No Specified End Date	History 5733 - Research in Special Topics Start Term: Fall 2012 2013 End Term: No Specified End Date

Course Details
CURRENT VERSION	PROPOSED VERSION
Code History 5733	Code History 5733
Title Research in Special Topics	Title Research in Special Topics
Description Research in the areas of students undertaken by the student in the preceding History 5731.	Description Research in the areas of students undertaken by the student in the preceding History 5731 The focus of the course will be determined by the needs and interests of the participating students and faculty.
End Term No Specified End Date	End Term No Specified End Date
Institution Lakehead University	Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities	Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 0.5	CreditWeight 0.5
Rationale	Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a

	student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.
Requiredor Elective	Requiredor Elective
Cross List	Cross List
Offering 0-0; 3-0	Offering 0-0; 3-0
Prerequisites History 5731	Prerequisites History 5731
Corequisites	Corequisites
Notes	Notes
SpecialTopicDropdown	SpecialTopicDropdown Yes
GradeSchemePF	GradeSchemePF
EffectonEnrolmentINIT	EffectonEnrolmentINIT No.
EffectonEnrolmentOTHER	EffectonEnrolmentOTHER No.
AdditionalTeachingSpace	AdditionalTeachingSpace No.
EffectonTeachingLoads	EffectonTeachingLoads No.
EffectonServices	EffectonServices No.
DirectinkindSupport	DirectinkindSupport No.

Prerequisites

CURRENT VERSION			PROPOSED VERSION
R1: ... All Course(s) from the following...			R1: ... All Course(s) from the following...
Code	Title	Credits	Code	Title	Credits
History 5731	Special Topics	0	History 5731	Special Topics	0

13.	New Course	History 5763 - Gender History
-----	------------	-------------------------------

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

History 5763 - Gender History Start Term: Fall 2013 End Term: No Specified End Date

Course Details
Code History 5763
Title Gender History
Description An examination of the development of gender as a category of analysis within the writing of history. Representations of both masculinity and femininity will be explored from a variety of time periods and a variety of cultures. Students will carry out intensive research in order to develop their research and analytical skills.
End Term No Specified End Date
Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 1.0
Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Requiredor Elective
Cross List
Offering 3-0; 3-0
Prerequisites
Corequisites
Notes
SpecialTopicDropdown
GradeSchemePF
EffectonEnrolmentINIT No.
EffectonEnrolmentOTHER No.
AdditionalTeachingSpace No.
EffectonTeachingLoads No.
EffectonServices No.
DirectinkindSupport No.

14.	Discontinued Course	History 5111 - Gender Analysis and the Writing of History
-----	---------------------	---

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

History 5111 - Gender Analysis and the Writing of History Start Term: Fall 2012 End Term: Spring 2013

Course Details
Code History 5111
Title Gender Analysis and the Writing of History
Description An historiographical examination of the development of gender as a category of analysis within the writing of history. Representations of both masculinity and femininity will be explored in the writings of historians from a variety of time periods and a variety of cultures.
End Term Spring 2013
Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 0.5
Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Required or Elective
Cross List
Offering 3-0; 0-0
Prerequisites
Corequisites
Notes
SpecialTopicDropdown
GradeSchemePF
Effect on Enrolment INIT No.
Effect on Enrolment OTHER No.
Additional Teaching Space
Effect on Teaching Loads No.
Effect on Services
Direct kind Support

15.	Discontinued Course	History 5113 - Research in Gender Analysis and the Writing of History
-----	---------------------	---

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

History 5113 - Research in Gender Analysis and the Writing of History Start Term: Fall 2012 End Term: Spring 2013

Course Details
Code History 5113
Title Research in Gender Analysis and the Writing of History
Description Independent research on the historiographical development of gender as a category of analysis within the field of history with the specific focus selected by the student.
End Term Spring 2013
Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 0.5
Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Requiredor Elective
Cross List
Offering 0-0; 3-0
Prerequisites History 5111
Corequisites
Notes
SpecialTopicDropdown
GradeSchemePF
EffectonEnrolmentINIT No.
EffectonEnrolmentOTHER No.
AdditionalTeachingSpace
EffectonTeachingLoads No.
EffectonServices
DirectinkindSupport

Prerequisites

R1: ...
All Course(s) from the following...
Code	Title	Credits
History 5111	Gender Analysis and the Writing of History	0

16.	Discontinued Course	History 5115 - France's Foreign Policy, 1890-1990
-----	---------------------	---

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

History 5115 - France's Foreign Policy, 1890-1990
Start Term: Fall 2012
End Term: Spring 2013

Course Details
Code History 5115
Title France's Foreign Policy, 1890-1990
Description A study of French foreign policy from the Belle ?poque to the end of the Cold War. This seminar examines some of the major issues that confronted this European great power in an increasingly difficult international environment. Selected topics are examined as problems in the history of international relations and the seminar focuses essentially on problem definition and methodology.
End Term Spring 2013
Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 0.5
Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Requiredor Elective

Cross List

Offering
3-0; 0-0

Prerequisites

Corequisites

Notes

SpecialTopicDropdown

GradeSchemePF

EffectonEnrolmentINIT
No.

EffectonEnrolmentOTHER
No.

AdditionalTeachingSpace

EffectonTeachingLoads
No.

EffectonServices

DirectinkindSupport

17.	Discontinued Course	History 5117 - Research in France's Foreign Policy, 1890-1990
-----	---------------------	---

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

History 5117 - Research in France's Foreign Policy, 1890-1990 Start Term: Fall 2012 End Term: Spring 2013

Course Details
Code History 5117
Title Research in France's Foreign Policy, 1890-1990
Description Examines the major issues that confronted this European great power since the 1890s. Students will carry out extensive research in order to develop their research and analytical skills, using in the process approaches previously developed.
End Term Spring 2013
Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 0.5
Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Requiredor Elective
Cross List No.
Offering 0-0; 3-0
Prerequisites History 5115
Corequisites
Notes
SpecialTopicDropdown
GradeSchemePF
EffectonEnrolmentINIT No.
EffectonEnrolmentOTHER No.
AdditionalTeachingSpace
EffectonTeachingLoads No.
EffectonServices
DirectinkindSupport

Prerequisites

R1: ...
All Course(s) from the following...
Code	Title	Credits
History 5115	France's Foreign Policy, 1890-1990	0

18.	Discontinued Course	History 5217 - Research in British Social History 1870-1918
-----	---------------------	---

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

History 5217 - Research in British Social History 1870-1918
Start Term: Fall 2012
End Term: Spring 2013

Course Details
Code History 5217
Title Research in British Social History 1870-1918
Description Independent study focusing on the preparation of a major research paper based upon both primary and secondary sources. Students will meet with the instructor regularly to discuss methodological and analytical questions arising from their research.
End Term Spring 2013
Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 0.5
Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Requiredor Elective
Cross List
Offering 0-0; 3-0
Prerequisites History 5211
Corequisites
Notes
SpecialTopicDropdown
GradeSchemePF
EffectonEnrolmentINIT No.
EffectonEnrolmentOTHER No.
AdditionalTeachingSpace
EffectonTeachingLoads No.
EffectonServices
DirectinkindSupport

19.	Discontinued Course	History 5311 - Topics in Twentieth-Century Canadian History
-----	---------------------	---

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

History 5311 - Topics in Twentieth-Century Canadian History Start Term: Fall 2012 End Term: Spring 2013

Course Details
Code History 5311
Title Topics in Twentieth-Century Canadian History
Description Focusing on topics in modern Canadian history, the course enables students to explore various themes in Canadian development. Students will have an opportunity to present research of their own for consideration in the seminar.
End Term Spring 2013
Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 0.5
Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Required or Elective
Cross List
Offering 3-0; 0-0
Prerequisites
Corequisites
Notes
Special Topic Dropdown
Grade Scheme PF
Effect on Enrolment INIT No.
Effect on Enrolment OTHER No.
Additional Teaching Space
Effect on Teaching Loads No.
Effect on Services
Direct kind Support

20.	Discontinued Course	History 5313 - Research in Twentieth-Century Canadian History
-----	---------------------	---

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

History 5313 - Research in Twentieth-Century Canadian History Start Term: Fall 2012 End Term: Spring 2013

Course Details
Code History 5313
Title Research in Twentieth-Century Canadian History
Description Explores the historiography of modern Canada and emphasizes research on twentieth century developments in the country.
End Term Spring 2013
Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 0.5
Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Requiredor Elective
Cross List
Offering 0-0; 3-0
Prerequisites History 5311
Corequisites
Notes
SpecialTopicDropdown
GradeSchemePF
EffectonEnrolmentINIT No.
EffectonEnrolmentOTHER No.
AdditionalTeachingSpace
EffectonTeachingLoads No.
EffectonServices
DirectinkindSupport

Prerequisites

R1: ...
All Course(s) from the following...
Code	Title	Credits
History 5311	Topics in Twentieth-Century Canadian History	0

21.	Discontinued Course	History 5411 - Topics in European History 1914-1945
-----	---------------------	---

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

History 5411 - Topics in European History 1914-1945 Start Term: Fall 2012 End Term: Spring 2013

Course Details
Code History 5411
Title Topics in European History 1914-1945
Description Examines intensively selected topics, assessing historiographical and methodological issues while using diverse disciplinary approaches to study European history.
End Term Spring 2013
Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 0.5
Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Requiredor Elective
Cross List
Offering 3-0; 0-0
Prerequisites
Corequisites
Notes
SpecialTopicDropdown
GradeSchemePF
EffectonEnrolmentINIT No.
EffectonEnrolmentOTHER No.
AdditionalTeachingSpace
EffectonTeachingLoads No.
EffectonServices
DirectinkindSupport

22.	Discontinued Course	History 5413 - Research in European History 1914-1945
-----	---------------------	---

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

History 5413 - Research in European History 1914-1945 Start Term: Fall 2012 End Term: Spring 2013

Course Details
Code History 5413
Title Research in European History 1914-1945
Description Students will carry out an intensive research project using available primary materials in order to develop their research and analytical skills.
End Term Spring 2013
Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 0.5
Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Requiredor Elective
Cross List
Offering 0-0; 3-0
Prerequisites History 5411
Corequisites
Notes
SpecialTopicDropdown
GradeSchemePF
EffectonEnrolmentINIT No.
EffectonEnrolmentOTHER No.
AdditionalTeachingSpace
EffectonTeachingLoads No.
EffectonServices
DirectinkindSupport

Prerequisites

R1: ...
All Course(s) from the following...
Code	Title	Credits
History 5411	Topics in European History 1914-1945	0

23.	Discontinued Course	History 5511 - Topics in Northern Ontario History
-----	---------------------	---

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

History 5511 - Topics in Northern Ontario History
Start Term: Fall 2012
End Term: Spring 2013

Course Details
Code History 5511
Title Topics in Northern Ontario History
Description Examines the development of the several regions of Northern Ontario, with a special focus on the history of Thunder Bay and its environs. Both the regions and city are placed in their provincial, national, and international context.
End Term Spring 2013
Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 0.5
Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Required or Elective
Cross List
Offering 3-0; 0-0
Prerequisites
Corequisites
Notes
Special Topic Dropdown
Grade Scheme PF
Effect on Enrolment INIT No.
Effect on Enrolment OTHER No.
Additional Teaching Space
Effect on Teaching Loads No.
Effect on Services
Direct kind Support

24.	Discontinued Course	History 5771 - International Relations in the 20th Century
-----	---------------------	--

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

History 5771 - International Relations in the 20th Century Start Term: Fall 2012 End Term: Spring 2013
--

Course Details
Code History 5771
Title International Relations in the 20th Century
Description Examines historical problems and the methodology used by historians in the study of international relations during the twentieth century.
End Term Spring 2013
Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 0.5
Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Requiredor Elective
Cross List
Offering 3-0; 0-0
Prerequisites
Corequisites
Notes
SpecialTopicDropdown
GradeSchemePF
EffectonEnrolmentINIT No.
EffectonEnrolmentOTHER No.
AdditionalTeachingSpace
EffectonTeachingLoads No.
EffectonServices
DirectinkindSupport

25.	New Course	History 5764 - The History of Social Justice and Human Rights
-----	------------	---

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

History 5764 - The History of Social Justice and Human Rights
Start Term: Fall 2013
End Term: No Specified End Date

Course Details
Code History 5764
Title The History of Social Justice and Human Rights
Description Examines selected topics in the history of struggles for social justice and human rights around the world. Topics will vary but will cover a wide range of events, from the Riel Rebellion to modern resistance movements. Students will do an independent research project in the second term of the course.
End Term No Specified End Date
Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 1.0
Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Required or Elective
Cross List
Offering 3-0; 3-0
Prerequisites
Corequisites
Notes
Special Topic Dropdown
Grade Scheme PF
Effect on Enrolment INIT No.
Effect on Enrolment OTHER No.
Additional Teaching Space No.
Effect on Teaching Loads No.
Effect on Services No.
Direct kind Support No.

26.	New Course	History 5620 - Modern South Asian History
-----	------------	---

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

History 5620 - Modern South Asian History Start Term: Fall 2013 End Term: No Specified End Date

Course Details
Code History 5620
Title Modern South Asian History
Description Explores the history of South Asia since 1757 through selected themes. Students will do an independent research project in the second term of the course.
End Term No Specified End Date
Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 1.0
Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Requiredor Elective
Cross List
Offering 3-0; 3-0
Prerequisites
Corequisites
Notes
SpecialTopicDropdown
GradeSchemePF
EffectonEnrolmentINIT No.
EffectonEnrolmentOTHER No.
AdditionalTeachingSpace No.
EffectonTeachingLoads No.
EffectonServices No.
DirectinkindSupport No.

27.	New Course	History 5761 - Colonialism and Neo-Colonialism in the Modern World
-----	------------	--

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

History 5761 - Colonialism and Neo-Colonialism in the Modern World Start Term: Fall 2013 End Term: No Specified End Date
--

Course Details
Code History 5761
Title Colonialism and Neo-Colonialism in the Modern World
Description Explores themes in the history of colonialism and neo-colonialism in the twentieth century. Students will do an independent research project in the second term of the course.
End Term No Specified End Date
Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 1.0
Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Requiredor Elective
Cross List
Offering 3-0; 3-0
Prerequisites
Corequisites
Notes
SpecialTopicDropdown
GradeSchemePF
EffectonEnrolmentINIT No.
EffectonEnrolmentOTHER No.
AdditionalTeachingSpace No.
EffectonTeachingLoads No.
EffectonServices No.
DirectinkindSupport No.

28.	New Course	History 5120 - France's Foreign Policy, 1890-1990
-----	------------	---

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

History 5120 - France's Foreign Policy, 1890-1990 Start Term: Fall 2013 End Term: No Specified End Date

Course Details
Code History 5120
Title France's Foreign Policy, 1890-1990
Description A study of French foreign policy from the Belle Époque to the end of the Cold War. Students will examine some of the major issues that confronted this European great power in an increasingly difficult international environment. Selected topics are examined as problems in the history of international relations and the seminar focuses essentially on problem definition and methodology. Students will carry out extensive research in order to develop their research and analytical skills.
End Term No Specified End Date
Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 1.0
Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Required or Elective

Cross List

Offering

3-0; 3-0

Prerequisites

Corequisites

Notes

SpecialTopicDropdown

GradeSchemePF

EffectonEnrolmentINIT

No.

EffectonEnrolmentOTHER

No.

AdditionalTeachingSpace

No.

EffectonTeachingLoads

No.

EffectonServices

No.

DirectinKindSupport

No.

29.	New Course	History 5101 - Modern European History
-----	------------	--

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

History 5101 - Modern European History Start Term: Fall 2013 End Term: No Specified End Date
--

Course Details
Code History 5101
Title Modern European History
Description Examines intensively selected topics, assessing historiographical and methodological issues while using diverse disciplinary approaches to study European history. Students will carry out an intensive research project using available primary materials in order to develop their research and analytical skills.
End Term No Specified End Date
Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 1.0
Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Required or Elective
Cross List
Offering 3-0; 3-0
Prerequisites
Corequisites
Notes
Special Topic Dropdown
Grade Scheme PF
Effect on Enrolment INIT No.
Effect on Enrolment OTHER No.
Additional Teaching Space No.
Effect on Teaching Loads No.
Effect on Services No.
Direct kind Support No.

30.	New Version of a Course	History 5711 - Independent Study
-----	-------------------------	----------------------------------

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

CURRENT VERSION	PROPOSED VERSION
History 5711 - Independent Study Start Term: Fall 2012 End Term: No Specified End Date	History 5711 - Independent Study Start Term: Fall 2012 2013 End Term: No Specified End Date

Course Details
CURRENT VERSION	PROPOSED VERSION
Code History 5711	Code History 5711
Title Independent Study	Title Independent Study
Description A course of specialized readings arranged to meet the needs of individual students.	Description A course of specialized readings and research arranged to meet the needs of individual students.
End Term No Specified End Date	End Term No Specified End Date
Institution Lakehead University	Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities	Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 0.5	CreditWeight 0.5
Rationale	Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of

	the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.
Requiredor Elective	Requiredor Elective
Cross List	Cross List
Offering 3-0; 0-0	Offering 3-0; 0-0
Prerequisites	Prerequisites
Corequisites	Corequisites
Notes	Notes
SpecialTopicDropdown	SpecialTopicDropdown
GradeSchemePF	GradeSchemePF
EffectonEnrolmentINIT	EffectonEnrolmentINIT No.
EffectonEnrolmentOTHER	EffectonEnrolmentOTHER No.
AdditionalTeachingSpace	AdditionalTeachingSpace No.
EffectonTeachingLoads	EffectonTeachingLoads No.
EffectonServices	EffectonServices No.
DirectinkindSupport	DirectinkindSupport No.

31.	New Course	History 5320 - Northern Ontario History
-----	------------	---

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

History 5320 - Northern Ontario History Start Term: Fall 2013 End Term: No Specified End Date

Course Details
Code History 5320
Title Northern Ontario History
Description Examines the development of the several regions of Northern Ontario, with a special focus on the history of Thunder Bay and its environs. Both the regions and city are placed in their provincial, national, and international context. Emphasizes research on a variety of primary sources
End Term No Specified End Date
Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 1.0
Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Required or Elective
Cross List
Offering 3-0; 3-0
Prerequisites
Corequisites
Notes
Special Topic Dropdown
Grade Scheme PF
Effect on Enrolment INIT No.
Effect on Enrolment OTHER No.
Additional Teaching Space No.
Effect on Teaching Loads No.
Effect on Services No.
Direct kind Support No.

32.	New Version of a Course	History 5713 - Independent Study
-----	-------------------------	----------------------------------

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

CURRENT VERSION	PROPOSED VERSION
History 5713 - Research in the Area of Independent Study Start Term: Fall 2012 End Term: No Specified End Date	History 5713 - Research in the Area of Independent Study Start Term: Fall 2012 2013 End Term: No Specified End Date

Course Details
CURRENT VERSION	PROPOSED VERSION
Code History 5713	Code History 5713
Title Research in the Area of Independent Study	Title Research in the Area of Independent Study
Description Research in the areas of specialized readings arranged for the student in the preceding History 5711.	Description Research in the areas A course of specialized readings and research arranged for the student in the preceding History 5711 to meet the needs of individual students.
End Term No Specified End Date	End Term No Specified End Date
Institution Lakehead University	Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities	Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 0.5	CreditWeight 0.5
Rationale	Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave

	requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.
Requiredor Elective	Requiredor Elective
Cross List	Cross List
Offering 0-0; 3-0	Offering 0-0; 3-0
Prerequisites History 5711	Prerequisites History 5711
Corequisites	Corequisites
Notes	Notes
SpecialTopicDropdown	SpecialTopicDropdown
GradeSchemePF	GradeSchemePF
EffectonEnrolmentINIT	EffectonEnrolmentINIT No.
EffectonEnrolmentOTHER	EffectonEnrolmentOTHER No.
AdditionalTeachingSpace	AdditionalTeachingSpace No.
EffectonTeachingLoads	EffectonTeachingLoads No.
EffectonServices	EffectonServices No.
DirectinkindSupport	DirectinkindSupport No.

Prerequisites

CURRENT VERSION			PROPOSED VERSION
R1: ... All Course(s) from the following...			R1: ... All Course(s) from the following...
Code	Title	Credits	Code	Title	Credits
History 5711	Independent Study	0	History 5711	Independent Study	0

33.	New Course	History 5501 - United States History
-----	------------	--------------------------------------

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

History 5501 - United States History Start Term: Fall 2013 End Term: No Specified End Date
--

Course Details
Code History 5501
Title United States History
Description Examines selected topics in the history of the United States. Students will carry out intensive research in order to develop their research and analytical skills.
End Term No Specified End Date
Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 1.0
Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Requiredor Elective
Cross List
Offering 3-0; 3-0
Prerequisites
Corequisites
Notes
SpecialTopicDropdown
GradeSchemePF
EffectonEnrolmentINIT No.
EffectonEnrolmentOTHER No.
AdditionalTeachingSpace No.
EffectonTeachingLoads No.
EffectonServices No.
DirectinkindSupport No.

34.	Discontinued Course	History 5215 - Topics in British Social History 1870-1918
-----	---------------------	---

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

History 5215 - Topics in British Social History 1870-1918 Start Term: Fall 2012 End Term: Spring 2013

Course Details
Code History 5215
Title Topics in British Social History 1870-1918
Description Examines selected topics in the social and cultural history of Britain and the empire from the late Victorian era to the end of World War I, with emphasis on historiographical and methodological questions.
End Term Spring 2013
Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 0.5
Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Requiredor Elective
Cross List
Offering 3-0; 0-0
Prerequisites
Corequisites
Notes
SpecialTopicDropdown
GradeSchemePF
EffectonEnrolmentINIT No.
EffectonEnrolmentOTHER No.
AdditionalTeachingSpace
EffectonTeachingLoads No.
EffectonServices
DirectinkindSupport

35.	Discontinued Course	History 5513 - Research in Northern Ontario History
-----	---------------------	---

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

History 5513 - Research in Northern Ontario History Start Term: Fall 2012 End Term: Spring 2013

Course Details
Code History 5513
Title Research in Northern Ontario History
Description Explores the historiography of Northern Ontario and emphasizes research on a variety of primary sources.
End Term Spring 2013
Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 0.5
Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Requiredor Elective
Cross List
Offering 0-0; 3-0
Prerequisites History 5511
Corequisites
Notes
SpecialTopicDropdown
GradeSchemePF
EffectonEnrolmentINIT No.
EffectonEnrolmentOTHER No.
AdditionalTeachingSpace
EffectonTeachingLoads No.
EffectonServices
DirectinkindSupport

Prerequisites

R1: ...
All Course(s) from the following...
Code	Title	Credits
History 5511	Topics in Northern Ontario History	0

36.	Discontinued Course	History 5515 - Topics in United States History
-----	---------------------	--

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

History 5515 - Topics in United States History
Start Term: Fall 2012
End Term: Spring 2013

Course Details
Code History 5515
Title Topics in United States History
Description Examines selected topics in the history of the United States.
End Term Spring 2013
Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 0.5
Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Requiredor Elective
Cross List
Offering 3-0; 0-0
Prerequisites
Corequisites
Notes
SpecialTopicDropdown
GradeSchemePF
EffectonEnrolmentINIT No.
EffectonEnrolmentOTHER No.
AdditionalTeachingSpace
EffectonTeachingLoads No.
EffectonServices
DirectinkindSupport

37.	Discontinued Course	History 5517 - Research in United States History
-----	---------------------	--

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

History 5517 - Research in United States History
Start Term: Fall 2012
End Term: Spring 2013

Course Details
Code History 5517
Title Research in United States History
Description Students will carry out independent research on a chosen topic in United States history, resulting in a major research paper.
End Term Spring 2013
Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 0.5
Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Requiredor Elective
Cross List
Offering 0-0; 3-0
Prerequisites History 5515
Corequisites
Notes
SpecialTopicDropdown
GradeSchemePF
EffectonEnrolmentINIT No.
EffectonEnrolmentOTHER No.
AdditionalTeachingSpace
EffectonTeachingLoads No.
EffectonServices
DirectinkindSupport

Prerequisites

R1: ...
All Course(s) from the following...
Code	Title	Credits
History 5515	Topics in United States History	0

38.	Discontinued Course	History 5611 - Topics in Twentieth-Century Caribbean and Latin American History
-----	---------------------	---

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

History 5611 - Topics in Twentieth-Century Caribbean and Latin American History
Start Term: Fall 2012
End Term: Spring 2013

Course Details
Code History 5611
Title Topics in Twentieth-Century Caribbean and Latin American History
Description Examines the social history of selected regions and countries in Latin America and the Caribbean. Topics vary from year to year to suit the interests of students in the program.
End Term Spring 2013
Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 0.5
Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Required or Elective
Cross List
Offering 3-0; 0-0
Prerequisites
Corequisites
Notes
Special Topic Dropdown
Grade Scheme PF
Effect on Enrolment INIT No.
Effect on Enrolment OTHER No.
Additional Teaching Space
Effect on Teaching Loads No.
Effect on Services
Direct kind Support

39.	Discontinued Course	History 5613 - Research in Twentieth-Century Caribbean and Latin American History
-----	---------------------	---

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

History 5613 - Research in Twentieth-Century Caribbean and Latin American History Start Term: Fall 2012 End Term: Spring 2013

Course Details
Code History 5613
Title Research in Twentieth-Century Caribbean and Latin American History
Description Explores the historiography of the Caribbean and Latin America and emphasizes research on twentieth-century developments in the region.
End Term Spring 2013
Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 0.5
Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Requiredor Elective
Cross List
Offering 0-0; 3-0
Prerequisites History 5611
Corequisites
Notes
SpecialTopicDropdown
GradeSchemePF
EffectonEnrolmentINIT No.
EffectonEnrolmentOTHER No.
AdditionalTeachingSpace
EffectonTeachingLoads No.
EffectonServices
DirectinkindSupport

Prerequisites

R1: ...
All Course(s) from the following...
Code	Title	Credits
History 5611	Topics in Twentieth-Century Caribbean and Latin American History	0

40.	Discontinued Course	History 5772 - Research in International Relations in the 20th Century
-----	---------------------	--

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

History 5772 - Research in International Relations in the 20th Century Start Term: Fall 2012 End Term: Spring 2013
--

Course Details
Code History 5772
Title Research in International Relations in the 20th Century
Description Students will carry out intensive research in order to develop their research and analytical skills.
End Term Spring 2013
Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 0.5
Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Requiredor Elective
Cross List
Offering 0-0; 3-0
Prerequisites History 5771
Corequisites
Notes
SpecialTopicDropdown
GradeSchemePF
EffectonEnrolmentINIT No.
EffectonEnrolmentOTHER No.
AdditionalTeachingSpace
EffectonTeachingLoads No.
EffectonServices
DirectinkindSupport

Prerequisites

R1: ...
All Course(s) from the following...
Code	Title	Credits
History 5771	International Relations in the 20th Century	0

41.	New Course	History 5420 - British Social History 1870-1918
-----	------------	---

Justification

This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Course Details

History 5420 - British Social History 1870-1918 Start Term: Fall 2013 End Term: No Specified End Date

Course Details
Code History 5420
Title British Social History 1870-1918
Description Examines selected topics in the social and cultural history of Britain and the empire from the late Victorian era to the end of World War I, with emphasis on historiographical and methodological questions. Students will do an independent research project in the second term of the course.
End Term No Specified End Date
Institution Lakehead University
Faculty Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities
CreditWeight 1.0
Rationale This item is part of a series of courses changes within the MA program. These changes result from a need to streamline the calendar and program, and are in response to logistical issues surrounding the delivery of our thesis, major research project, and course work streams. They also address issues that have arisen while attempting to accommodate leave requests and/or other unexpected interruptions in a student's program of study. They make the program both more transparent and flexible. The majority of the changes are the discontinuation of the half-course pairings currently in the calendar and replacing them with full-year equivalents. A few additional new courses have also been created reflecting the research expertise of faculty and, in a few cases, ensuring our program reflects the new strategic direction of the university and addresses items in both the university and departmental Academic Plans. These changes carry no budgetary issues and do not impact the basic structure of the MA program, nor its specialization in Women's Studies.

Required or Elective
Cross List
Offering 3-0; 3-0
Prerequisites
Corequisites
Notes
Special Topic Dropdown
Grade Scheme PF
Effect on Enrolment INIT No.
Effect on Enrolment OTHER No.
Additional Teaching Space No.
Effect on Teaching Loads No.
Effect on Services No.
Direct kind Support No.