

After a brief but brave battle with cancer, Dr. Chris Jecchinis, Professor Emeritus of Lakehead University, passed away peacefully at St. Joseph's Medical Centre in Toronto on Monday, September 13. He was 86 years old.

Dr. Jecchinis was Professor of Economics, Labour and Industrial Relations at Lakehead University from 1970 to 1988. He often served as a consultant and labour relations mediator for the private and public sectors, and co-authored or contributed to a number of publications and studies on the subject. He authored Beyond Olympus, a memoir of his experiences as a resistance fighter and member of the British Special Forces in Nazi-occupied Greece during WW2, and We Go To Greece, his contribution to a series of travel guides for young people.
