

The Department of Gender and Women's Studies'
Lunch & Learn presents...

Politics of Memory and Curating Culture: Women, Bodies & Land

Date: February 28th, 2025 (Friday)
Time: 12:00 pm to 1:00 pm
Speaker: Rosemary Kimani-Dupuis
Location: Zoom
Meeting ID: 955 6840 6653
Passcode: 846394
Scan to join the event:

Politics of memory is a significant discourse relevant for First Nations women of Australia, as it intertwines with their historical and ongoing struggles for cultural preservation, identity, and sovereignty. The politics of memory involves confronting these histories, while curating culture acknowledges the agency of First Nations women in reclaiming their narratives and protecting ancestral lands.

Lakehead
UNIVERSITY

Department of Gender and Women's Studies