

AUDIT A COURSE

A person may wish to audit a course for interest, self-enrichment or academic exploration. Registration in audited courses is dependent upon class size and other factors. Approval from the instructor of the course and Chair/Director/Program Coordinator is required. Registration is limited to undergraduate courses that do NOT have laboratory or practicum/field placement components. Graduate level courses may NOT be audited. Credit is not given for audited courses.

*Auditing a course allows a person to attend a course without being required to participate in the academic component of the course such as completing course work or writing examinations. There is no benefit of a grade or credit for an audited course and it does not contribute towards program requirements. If you still need an audit section cross-listed, please connect with your department timetabling representative.

Audit fees are non-refundable and once registration occurs, must be paid in full online or at the Accounts Office during regular business hours: Monday to Friday, 8:30 am to 4:30 pm. It is the student's responsibility to pay all fees associated with auditing a course.

Note: The University reserves the right to restrict auditing to specific courses.
