

ATTENTION: BIOLOGY GRADUATE STUDENTS

Spring/Summer 2013 Course Offering

Biology 5111 GA (Special Topic): APPLIED BIostatISTICS WITH R

An introduction to biostatistics and statistical programming language R. The objective of this course is to equip students with the knowledge and tools needed for planning and performing biological data analyses. Applications for bioinformatics will also be highlighted.

Course Dates: May 1 to August 31, 2013

Credit: 0.5 (half-credit)

Location: Thunder Bay campus

Instructor: Robert Jackson, MSc

Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor and Chair of Biology

(Please register by hard copy of Request for Change in Registration form. Instructor and Chair of Biology must sign this form before submitting it to the Registrar's office.)

If interested, please contact rjackso1@lakeheadu.ca