Message from our Food Services Team

Hello and Happy New Year to our Staff, Students and Faculty, who have been supporting us through the unique and ever-changing challenges of COVID-19. We at Food Services have been working to balance nutritious meal options with a fiscally responsible service for our meal plan community. With that understanding, we have heard your concerns and have arranged for pick ups, special dietary requests, or just a one-on-one conversation to explain the changes and new service structure. We hope that you continue to reach out, so we can make the most of these service changes and you feel you are receiving the very best service we can provide during this unprecedented time. We hear you and see you, we are all in this together!

Environment & Sustainability

On September 3rd 2020, we launched our composting pilot project. This project has greatly cut down on garbage waste within the dining hall we're excited to track it's progress!

In this take-out culture we're in the middle of, we've made sure that all dining takeout products are bio-degradable or compostable.

5 minutes with Chef Brandon

What inspired you to become a chef? As a teenager I was always working in kitchens. My first job was washing dishes at a Conference Centre in Innisfil Ontario. I was always interested in what the chefs were creating and I took an interest in cooking from then on. I had a great Mentor/Chef who explained to me that it's not just about cooking ingredients, it's about pleasing your customers, knowing where your ingredients come from, and constantly researching new ideas.

Where did you train? I started my apprenticeship at the Kempenfelt Conference Centre, then worked with many catering companies around the Barrie/Orillia area. I studied at George Brown College in Toronto.

What is your all time favourite dish to eat? Braised beef short ribs.

What are the most important cooking tools one should have in their kitchen? A sharp knife, a good quality peeler, and an imagination.

Tell us about how you spent time during lockdown? I spent my time with my wife and our two year old son Lucas digging for worms, gardening, catching up on house work that I have been putting off. We also welcomed our baby girl Maeve into this crazy world in late July.

Catering during COVID-19

Once lock down is lifted - You can contact Conference Services for your food or beverage service needs. Although we have limits to the number of attendees and the types of services we can provide, if you have a meeting or event that requires catering, you can reach out to us to make those arrangements safely and efficiently to ensure your guests are comfortable.

To organize your catered event or beverage service, contact Conference Services at extension 3002 or conference.services@lakeheadu.ca.

Due to Covid-19 restrictions on all catering orders, a minimum of 1 server is required for the duration of all catered events.

COVID-19 Protocols

Provincial Guidelines have continued to dictate the style of service we provide based on the current Public Health Zone on campus (Dine In, Take Out, or Delivery). In the event of a quarantine or self-isolation, we provide pre-arranged meal delivery for Breakfast, Lunch and Dinner. Be assured that the Residence Services team is significantly involved in both menu development and portions offered for all food service models. Should you have any questions regarding your Meal Plan, please reach out to your RA or contact Lynn Fortney at lfortney@lakeheadu.ca / 705-330-4010, ext 3002.
