Faculty of Health and Behavioural Sciences
Department of Health Sciences

Reference # HBS-2022-23-08

Lakehead University, Thunder Bay Campus, invites applications for a 3-year limited-term appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor in the Department of Health Sciences. The academic rank of the appointment will be commensurate with the qualifications of the successful candidate. The position will commence on August 1, 2022.

Lakehead is a comprehensive university with a reputation for innovative programs and cutting-edge research. With campuses located in Thunder Bay and Orillia, Lakehead has approximately 10,000 students and 2,160 faculty and staff. With an emphasis on collaborative learning and independent critical thinking and a multidisciplinary teaching approach, Lakehead offers a variety of degree and diploma programs at the undergraduate, graduate, and doctoral levels through its nine faculties, including Business Administration, Education, Engineering, Health and Behavioural Sciences, Natural Resources Management, Science and Environmental Studies, Social Sciences and Humanities, Graduate Studies, and Ontario's newest Faculty of Law. For further information, please visit: www.lakeheadu.ca.

The Department of Health Sciences is a leader in graduate education and research. The Department offers a Master of Public Health (MPH), Master of Health Sciences (MHSc), and a PhD in Health Sciences, where students have the option of completing a specialization in: Social-Ecological Systems, Sustainability and Health; Epidemiology; Indigenous and Northern Health; Gerontology; and Nursing. We uphold an inclusive environment wherein diversity in beliefs and practices – as well as individual diversity – is lived, celebrated and respected. The successful nominee will complement and expand the current expertise of researchers in the Department of Health Sciences and will be affiliated with the EPID@Work Research Institute.

The successful candidate will teach in areas covered in the Master of Public Health and Master of Health Sciences programs, including, but not limited to, Occupational & Environmental Health and Data Management. Experience with experiential learning and online or alternative modes of delivery is highly desired. In addition to teaching, the successful applicant is also expected to develop a strong research program in Occupational Health and/or Work Disability Prevention within the EPID@Work Research Institute. As such, the preferred candidate will have demonstrated experience in conducting research in the area of occupational health. Funding for this position is made available through a grant from the Ministry of Labour, Training and Skills Development to support the EPID@Work Research Institute.
