Transcript Title :
Pedagogical rationale for this proposal. Why are you submitting this request?:	The purpose of this major modification is to augment the original Criminology transfer pathway such that a special pathway exists between Sheridan College's Police Foundation Diploma and Lakehead University's Criminology Degree. The current pathway gives 6 FCEs of transfer credit for a two year diploma from any Police Foundations program in Ontario. This arrangement is not competitive with other transfer pathways, which tend to provide the equivalent of 10 FCEs of credit for this transfer pathway (e.g., students transferring into Ontario Tech University with a two year Police Foundations diploma move directly into third year; Ontario Tech University is a direct competitor to Lakehead both in terms of location and school rankings). Remaining competitive with other universities in the region is critical to continuing to grow Lakehead's enrollments. Further, advancing the educational training of persons interested in a career in law enforcement is a key social initiative in Canada now and for the foreseeable future. It is important that persons who go into the field of policing (as well as related careers, such as corrections, probation, border services, etc.) have been exposed to the intellectual vibrancy that university training offers. Enhancing the viability and ease of transitioning a college diploma into a university degree at Lakehead promotes this outcome. The pathway offers students who have completed a college diploma oriented towards applied training for a field in law enforcement to extend their knowledge base by exploring a broader range of topics oriented towards crime and justice in society. While a Police Foundations diploma actually offers students a fairly limited range of career options, coupling this diploma with a university degree in Criminology greatly expands their career options to include: policing, probation, corrections, provincial government employment (e.g., Alcohol and Gaming Commission of Ontario), federal government employment (e.g., Department of Justice), and entrance into professional school (e.g., law school) among other opportunities. Please see the program brief for a detailed rationale for creating this new transfer pathway.
