

The SES Undergraduate Conference Travel Award

Purpose:

To assist students in travelling to conferences, each year the Office of the Dean of Science and Environmental Studies will make available ten awards. The maximum amount of each award is $500.00 each.

Application Process:

Complete the form and submit to the Dean's Office Faculty of Science & Environmental Studies.

Deadline Date March 14, 2023.

Selection Process:

Awarding of funds will be determined by the Office of the Dean of Science and Environmental Studies. Preference given to students who are giving a presentation (poster, oral, etc.) or attending a professional workshop. Preference will be given to students who have not received an award previously. Students may receive only one award per year and they may not have graduated from their undergraduate studies at the time of registration for the conference.

Please note:

Proof of cost (receipts) will be required before payment of the award, but the application can be submitted for approval without complete documentation.
