

Employment Rate Results for the Graduating Class of 2007

Preliminary results from the Ontario University Graduate (Employment) Survey (2007) were released earlier this week and reveal that once again the employment rate for graduates of undergraduate degree programs at Lakehead University two years after graduation is higher than the average employment rate for graduates of undergraduate degree programs in the Ontario University System.

The 2007 Ontario University Graduate Survey was administered by CCI Research on behalf of the Council of Ontario Universities under a contract with the Ontario Ministry of Training, Colleges and Universities, from February 2011 to May 2011. Of the 1,517 Lakehead University graduates contacted, 425 returned completed surveys for a response rate of 28.0%. The response rate for Lakehead University was comparable to that for the Ontario University System (28.9%).

Employment Rates

- Two years after graduation in 2007, the employment rate for graduates of undergraduate degree programs at Lakehead University was 96.0%, compared to 95.2% for the Ontario University System.
- Six months after graduation in 2007, the employment rate for graduates of undergraduate degree programs at Lakehead University was 94.8%, compared to 93.6% for the Ontario University System.