- What factors favor which political actors? What is the impact on the outcome of the policy-making process?
- With respect to specific programs, who benefits? Who pays? What is rationed? How is it rationed? Who gets scarce resources? How is that decided?

COURSE FORMAT

To support your learning the Course Content, you will be provided with:

- an opportunity to participate in several lobbying and advocacy simulations about the policies, programs and services of Canada;
- classroom instruction;
- access to research materials and instructor-prepared worksheets;
- opportunities to participate in role-playing exercises (more details available on Desire2Learn under Role Play Simulations); and
- individual and group written assignments.

LEARNER OUTCOMES

In this course, you will learn:

- independent critical thinking through the use of research and written assignments;
- social awareness by requiring that you know the social and environmental policies, programs and services of the countries studied, how those policies are advocated by different political parties and interest groups, how they are implemented, and how this affects the citizens in general; and
- leadership through the team work required of role play simulations.

At the end of this course, you will be able to:

- collect authoritative information about the public policies, programs and services of Canada;
- identify the content, characteristics, decision making processes, roles of elected officials, officials, and citizens in the development and application of public policy, programs and services in Canada.
- identify and assess the main issues facing the administrative branch, the obstacles

and the assets in Canada;

- identify the types of interactions and processes of the administrative branch of Canada;
- distinguish between significant and insignificant political actors, effective and ineffective change in public policy, programs and services, and influences on the processes of Canada;
- identify and assess resources needed for the polity to deliver programs and services and design and apply policy, (including identifying which ones are scarce), and what factors affect the functioning of the policy; and
- apply these skills research and analyze public policy, programs and services in Canada.

Week 8-11	Role play simulation II
Week 12	End of Role play simulation II; awarding of professionalism grade

GRADING

COMPONENT	PERCENTAGE OF TOTAL MARK
Worksheets 1-9	60
Role Play Simulation I presentations and professionalism	20
Role Play Simulation II presentations and professionalism	20
Bonus Assignment: Skills Grid	Up to +5% of final grade
TOTAL	100

Worksheets, which are to be completed individually. Worksheets must be typed, in point form, and in 10 or 12 point font. All assignments must be properly sourced using the Chicago Manual of Style. The balance of the grade reflects the presentations and background preparation in the role-play simulations, which include political speeches, media interviews, political advertising, and other types of presentation. There may be bonus assignments. In general, the instructor awards grades on assignments and presentations on the following criteria:

- The student did an excellent job: 8/10
- When reading the student's work, the instructor learns something: 9/10
- The student's work is better than the instructor could have produced: 10/10

The professionalism grade is given in consultation with teammates according to the following proposed rubric, to be discussed and modified on the second class of term. It is taken into account when grading the role play simulation

ASSESSMENT AND ROLE OF THE INSTRUCTOR

I believe that you learn only through what you yourself say, do, write or read, so I will use classroom time as much as possible to help you learn what you cannot learn any other way on your own. For more about my approach to teaching.

My responsibilities on this course are to:

- design the course and course requirements;
- set clear expectations for you to meet;
- coach you during your course work (developing strategies, role plays);
- help you prepare for components listed in the “Grading” section above, as well as exams and classroom participation; and
- resolve any conflicts or answer any questions regarding student activities in the course.

My performance is assessed through:

- formal student evaluations done at the end of the course;
- informal short discussions from time to time during the class;
- interactions (talk and e-mail) with individual or groups of students; and
- ongoing monitoring of your performance and that of other students in the class in all your work.

I commit to:

- ongoing reflection on my practice as a teacher;
- creativity, innovation and experimentation in the classroom;
- taking chances and making mistakes while I try to find the best way for you to learn; and
- being accountable to you and other students regarding these commitments.

IF YOUR WORK IS LATE...

If there is no date stamp each page of any late assignment (available from the Department secretary or from the Lakehead University Security Services office), the applicable date/time penalties will be assessed based on when I receive the assignment.

Late penalties are as follows:

- 40 percentage points deducted for submissions up to 24 hours late;
  - 80 percentage points deducted for between 24 and 48 hours late;
- ONLY if I have not completed grading for all assignments handed in. Once all assignments are handed in are graded, I will not accept late assignments.

Less participation will result in a lower participation grade. If you are responsible for a significant task as part of group work, and do not fulfill that task, you will fail the course.

CHEATING

When you registered at Lakehead University, you agreed to follow the University's Code of Student Behaviour and Disciplinary Procedures (you can find a version online here <http://policies.lakeheadu.ca/policy.php?pid=60>, but it's your responsibility to ensure if this is the most up-to-date version). Handing in any work under your name where you are not the author (either by yourself or part of a group) is considered academic fraud.

Handing in the same piece of work, or a significant part of the same piece, for more than one course without the written permission of the professors or departments concerned is considered academic fraud. Any professor who discovers academic fraud and does not apply for sanctions under the Procedures is negligent in his/her professional obligations.
