Course Description

This course examines the interplay of gender, race, ethnicity, and class on the macro, meso, and micro levels to reveal the complexity and often overlooked richness of northern women's lives. We will examine the past and present lives of women in the north. Substantive areas to explore will include: Indigenous women pre-colonization, during colonization and after colonization; women in the Arctic and their sisters in other countries; women Pioneers who settled the North; women in the gold rush; women in education; what women have brought to community, and past and present opportunities for women. Included in the discussions we will consider social class, good women (those who "knew their roles" and lived by socially accepted standards) versus bad women (the "Diamond Lills", those who stepped outside traditional roles), gender, sexuality, prevailing social norms that dictated and continue to dictate the role of women in the north, Indigenous styles of governance, and economics. Social location is an important component of our discussion of Women in the North.

Important Note: This is a web course. This means the whole course is online. You will find lectures which include the discussion questions you are to answer and links which you are to open and read or videos to watch. The exams are written online, in the course D2L site. In a web course there are no zoom lectures, we do not meet in-person, and lectures are not taped.

This is a compressed course and we are covering in 3 weeks what we would normally cover in 12 weeks, over 3 months. If this was a face-to-face course, on campus during the spring semester, we would spend 10 hours a week in class; not including daily readings and assignments. This course is designed so that you spend 10 hours a week working on lectures, links and videos in the lectures, and answering discussion posts. The 10 hours does not include the assignment and all of the readings; some time has been allotted in the 10 hours a week to cover some of the readings.

Learning Outcomes

Explore the complexity of life in the North
Examine how intersections of race, gender, gender identity, ethnicity, and class impact women in the North
Understand ideology and its effect on determining social standards and values
Investigate the strength and resilience of women in the North
Meet many of the remarkable women who helped shape communities and this country

Understand the impact of colonialism and colonization
Use your sociological imagination to investigate the social world and how the social world shaped the lives of women and how women adapted/challenged/changed the social world
Enjoy the stories of the lives of women in the North
Attain an understanding of the richness of the lives of women in the North.

Required Text

Kechnie Margaret and Marge Reitsma-Street. 1996. Changing Lives Women in Northern Ontario. Toronto: Dundurn Press.

All other readings are posted in our D2L site.

Please note: Kechnie and Reitsma-Street can be purchased as an e-book.

Course Requirements

Students are expected to regularly check the D2L site and actively participate in class discussions. Students are to read the textbook, articles posted in content, online lectures, the material in the links found in the lectures, and watch the videos listed in the online lectures. Reading assignments are to be completed for the date they are assigned. The reading list is attached to this syllabus. This class is designed to be interactive and group discussion is a central component of the course.

All times for this course are Thunder Bay time, Eastern Daylight Time.

Evaluation	Marks	Due Dates
Midterm Examination	15%	May 31, 2022
Research Project	30%	June 7, 2022
Participation	35%	Throughout the Course
Final Examination	20%	June 15, 2022
	100%

Examinations

The midterm examination date is May 31, 2022 and is held online. The final examination date is set by the registrar and will be held online on June 15, 2022. Both the midterm and final examinations are held at 6.00 pm Thunder Bay time, Eastern Daylight Time. Please note these times on your calendar as they are the only time the examinations are available. Everyone will write the exam at the same time. These are individual examinations and you are not to answer examination questions with another person. Answers to examination questions are to be based on your knowledge, using your words; you are not to google answers, copy lecture material, or other sources. You can increase your chances of doing well by reading the textbook, readings in D2L, reading the links in the lectures, watching the videos in the lectures, carefully reading the lecture material, actively engaging in online discussion with your group, and understand the material.

Examinations will incorporate lectures (including links and videos), discussions, research assignments and assigned readings.

Please note: as you have all the course material available to you, there will be no reviews. You might want to create your study notes as you go through each unit.

The midterm and final examinations are at 6.00 pm, Eastern Daylight Time. Everyone will write the midterm and final examinations at the same time. The examination times are firm. The final examination day is set by the registrar.

Please note: Time for all students, for the midterm, begins at 6.00 pm and if the exam, for example, is one hour in length, no questions registered after 7.00 pm will be graded. If you have a registered accommodation, for example, to have an additional 30 minutes, your time will be adjusted and you will have until 7.30 to finish the exam. Any posts after 7.30 will not be graded.

To be clear: You must not access any sources or materials (in print, online, or in any other way) to complete any course examinations. The exams are to be completed solely, without collaboration with any other person.

Research Project

Each of you will choose one Northern woman to examine in-depth. You will create a poster highlighting biographical information about the woman, what her accomplishments were, how she coped with the intersections of class, gender, gender identity, race, ethnicity, and the importance of social location. You can include interesting and fun facts. You are to reference your sources and include a reference page in your poster or attach the reference page as a separate document. All sources in the poster are to be fully cited; not just direct quotes. For example, intext citations should be (Smith1927:6).

For this assignment, you can make use of the Chancellor Paterson Library's Northern Resource Centre, by accessing their holdings online. You need to use a minimum of 6 sources for your assignment. Three of the sources must be academic sources. Simply finding 6 sources on the internet is not sufficient. As this is a research project make use of research skills and find your information from a variety of sources; books on the woman, books that include information on her, peer reviewed journal articles, newspaper articles, local histories, etc. Posted on the D2L site for this course is a library handout prepared specifically for Women in the North, by Librarian Trudy Russo.

The following link explains academic sources.

Scholarly / Peer Reviewed vs Popular Sources

There are to be no duplication of posters. Be sure to note your choice of the woman you will research in the forum allocated for this purpose. Choice is based on whoever posts the name first.

Helpful hint: Google academic poster examples.

The research projects will be posted for the entire class to read. There will be time devoted to reading the posters, posing questions, and answering questions. Research Projects are to be posted by 9.00 am on June 7, 2022. Posters posted after 9.00 am June 7 and before 9.00 am on June 8, 2022 will be docked 5 late marks. Should you submit your poster any time after 9.00 am and before 6.00 pm on June 8, 2022 you will be docked 10 late marks. No posters will be accepted after 6.00 pm on June 8, 2022.

There will be a forum set up to post your poster. Classmates can ask questions or make comments simply by hitting reply under your posting and you can make your response in the same way. Responding in this way keeps all questions/comments/responses in one place, which makes it easier for all concerned. You can post your poster beginning June 5 at 8.00 am. Comments to posters can begin on June 7 at any time. Questions/comments must be made prior to Tuesday, June 14, 2022 at 2.00 pm.

If you were handing in a hardcopy of the poster it would be on standard Bristol board, which is 22 X 28 inches; this is the size your poster is to be. You will be creating your poster online, based on the instructions found in content. You are to use the site posted in the link or google docs to create your poster. There is an example of a poster, in content, to help you. Please note: this is only an example and you can design the poster anyway you want.

Remember to post your poster in the poster forum specifically designed for posters. You also need to post your poster in assignments. The poster will be graded in the assignment folder and only you can see the comments and grade in the assignment folder. Should you choose not to submit your poster in the assignment folder, on or before 6.00 pm on June 8, 2022, no comments will be made on your poster, your grade will appear in myinfo.

To be clear: you must cite direct quotes, paraphrasing, any idea or thought not your own, including any information taken from online sources. The citations are to appear in the body of the poster, for example, (Smith 1942:86). All sources are to appear in the reference page. Failure to cite all sources is plagiarism.

Participation

Participation is a significant part of your overall mark. Your participation mark is based on your contribution to group discussions and asking questions/making comments and answering questions/comments on the poster assignment. This entails fulsome responses to group discussions/poster questions/comments; stating "I agree" or "I disagree" without adding why you agree or disagree is not considered a fulsome discussion. Repeating what a group member has said in discussion posts/questions/comments is not a fulsome discussion. Participation means engaging with the material. You are to answer each discussion question in each lecture. While you certainly can agree or disagree with a post, you need to outline your rationale for doing so. Critical thinking is not about opinions. Critical thinking is rational, unbiased, evidence-based thought.

If you are concerned you will be repeating what a group member has posted you might want to answer the question offline, cut and paste it into the discussion forum, and then comment on what your group members have said.

Each of you was randomly assigned to a discussion group forum and will work with your group throughout the course. Discussion forums can only be viewed by the members of the group and me. Respectfulness of answers is to be practiced. You do not have to agree with your classmates, you can respectfully disagree. Academia is about discourse and critical thought.

Each question, in each lecture and the questions/comments/responses on posters will be marked out of 4 possible marks, following the list below. Your answers should not only reflect that you have read the material/watched the videos in question, but have thought about and further analysed it. Additionally, you should read the responses of your peers to avoid repeating or copying their answers, as well as to further your group discussion regarding that question.

- 0 Marks: No answer or answer reveals a fundamental misunderstanding of the question or content being asked about.
- 1 Mark: Answer reveals you have read the relevant material and provided an answer.
- 2 Marks: Answer shows an understanding of the material being asked about and appropriately addresses the question.
- 3 Marks: Answer illustrates a full understanding of the material and the question, as well as the capacity to engage with the discussion beyond merely answering the question.
- 4 Marks: Answer proves that you have not only understood the material and question, but are able to deeply discuss the sociological relevance provoked by the question and the material.

Discussions are not marked for length, only for content.

Should you use any outside sources in your discussion posts they must be cited. Failure to do so is plagiarism.

Discussion posts for lectures open at 8.00 am on Tuesday. The last posts for discussion questions, for weeks one and two, need to be made by 2.00 pm on Monday. To be clear, no participation marks will be assigned after 2.00 pm on Monday, May 30, for week one and Monday, June 6, for week two. In week 3, posts will close at 2.00 am on June 14. To be clear, no participation marks will be assigned after 2.00 pm on Tuesday, June 14, in week three. I will provide a response to at least one post, per student, each week, for posts made before 4.00 pm on Thursday.

Please note: while lectures open early for those who want to get ahead, discussion posts for week one begins on May 24, discussion posts for week two begin on May 30, and discussion posts for week three begin on June 6. Should you post week two discussion questions in week one, the week two discussion posts will not be graded, this holds true for early posts for weeks two and three as well.

While you are to read all the posters, you are to select 10 of your classmates' poster assignments to read in-depth and ask questions/make comments on these. As well, you are to answer questions/comments asked of your poster. Please ask questions/make comments of the posters of your group members before examining the posters of those in other groups. Doing so ensures everyone has questions/comments to address and everyone's work is read in-depth by some classmates. Respectfulness is expected when asking questions/making comments or responding to questions/comments. Questions/comments/responses are to be fulsome. Saying nice colours is not a fulsome comment.

Participation marks will be posted each week. Please note the grade as it will be deleted when the grade is updated.
