COURSE DESCRIPTION

Welcome to SOC 1100! In this course you will be introduced to Sociology, a key discipline in the Social Sciences. In Sociology, we study the "science of society". Sociology is concerned with understanding how individuals and groups shape and are constrained by the social institutions in our society. We will examine how the social world impacts our behaviours, actions and the social meanings we give to our everyday experiences. We will look specifically at socialization, deviance, social inequality and its intersections of gender, race, ethnicity, social class among others, social institutions such as the media, the family, education, work, health, and globalization, and social change through policy, the law and social movements. Our objective is to better understand how social theory and social research can be used to explain the social patterns of everyday life. We will also explore the role of sociologists and look briefly at the historical development of the discipline including C. Wright Mills concept of the 'sociological imagination'.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- Articulate key sociological concepts
- Develop knowledge of key social theories and the practices of social research
- Explore social institutions and the role of individuals in relation to these in society
- Explore social inequalities (gender, ethnicity/race, social class among other structured social identities) as these are constructed through social institutions and social interactions;
- Explore social change and social movements;
- Develop university-level writing skills.

REQUIRED TEXTBOOK

Imagining Sociology: An Introduction with Readings. 2nd Ed. by Catherine Corrigan-Brown.

*Available in the Bookstore: bookstore.lakeheadu.ca

Please note: Additional Readings will be posted on the Desire 2 Learn (D2L) course site.

HOW THE COURSE IS ORGANIZED

This course is offered in-person twice a week on Monday and Wednesday from 11:30-1pm. Course material scaffolds; thus, both classes are required each week.

Monday's class: Be sure to independently complete the weekly readings prior to Monday's class and come prepared to engage in group work, interactive learning activities and class discussion. Wednesday's class: In this class, there will be a lecture with an opportunity to ask questions.

DESIRE TO LEARN (D2L): In this course we will be using Desire2Learn (D2L), also known as MyCourseLink. Students should be aware that when they access the electronic component of this course, private information such as first and last names and program affiliation, may become apparent to all other users in the same course. Continuation in this course will be deemed consent to this disclosure.

LEARNING ACCOMODATIONS: If you have a learning accommodation or you think you need an accommodation regarding the format of the course, or the due dates for assignments, please contact Student Accessibility Services at this link as soon as possible. Lakehead University is committed to ensuring accessibility for persons with disabilities and I want to work with you to ensure that you have appropriate access to the course materials and learning opportunities.

Your mental health is important! As a university student, you may sometimes experience mental health concerns or stressful events that interfere with your academic performance and negatively impact your daily activities. If you or anyone you know experiences academic stress, difficult life events or feelings of anxiety or depression, Student Health and Wellness is available to help. Their services are free for Lakehead Students and appointments are available. You can learn more about confidential mental health services available on and off campus at this link. If you require immediate support regarding a mental health crisis, call Crisis Response at 346-8282 (24 hours/day). For non-crisis issues, please call Good To Talk at 1-866-925-5454. For additional resources, see the tab "Other Important Information" on D2L. Remember that getting help is a smart and courageous thing to do — for yourself, for those you care about, and for those who care about you. Asking for support sooner rather than later is almost always helpful.

HOW TO CONTACT THE PROFESSOR: If you have questions, at any time during this course, please visit me in my Office Hours or email me to set up an individual appointment (see above).

Email: Emails should require only a brief response. More detailed inquiries should be reserved for office hours. When emailing professors, it is good practice to use professional etiquette: emails should be brief, include a salutation (eg. Hello, Hi, Dear) and signature (your name), be coherent and use complete sentences, avoid emojis and texting jargon/slang, and be courteous in tone. Note: Please include the course number in the subject line.

EVALUATION INFORMATION

Assignment Submissions: The written assignments in this course will be submitted via the digital Drop-Box function on D2L, found under the "Assignments" tab. Each assignment will have its own designated folder and students are asked to submit in the appropriate folder.

Submitting your Assignment, please ensure:

1. Your assignment has been saved in .doc format for marking. Please do not submit any "Pages" documents or PDF files.
2. Individual assignments submitted electronically must include your last name in the filename: e.g. Ahmed_ActiveReadingAssignment.doc.
3. You should receive confirmation that your assignment has successfully submitted. If you do not receive confirmation, it is a sign that there may be a problem. If this happens, please contact the instructor or your TA to ensure your assignment is properly uploaded.
* Improper uploading will not be accepted as an excuse for late papers.

Written Assignments: All written assignments or components of assignments are to be typed, double-spaced using 12pt, Times New Roman font, with 2.54cm (1-inch) margins. Please include a title page with your name, student number and email address, the title of the assignment and the date submitted.

ASA Referencing Style: In Sociology, the standard referencing guide is American Sociological Association (ASA). Please use ASA for all referencing in this course. More details on the D2L.

Assignment due dates: All assignments must be handed in by the specified due dates. If you have trouble meeting a due date, please discuss it with me at least one week prior to your due date and, if accepted, we will negotiate a new due date. Missing due dates without prior approval will result in a deduction of 5% per day

ASSESSMENT DETAILS

1. PARTICIPATION (10% per term)

Participation marks will be assigned based on your engagement with the course material. You will be given lots of the opportunities to participate in interactive learning and discuss the key concepts and ideas that emerge from the course readings each week. Your participation mark will be based on your presence, and evidence that you are doing the readings through your contributions to small group activities, meaningful discussion in small groups and in the wider class, and overall engagement with course material. To do this well, you must come to class each week prepared by having completed the assigned course readings and be ready to listen, learn and contribute.

To help you prepare for class, use the questions below to guide your weekly assigned reading:

- What are the main themes and sub-themes in the assigned reading?
- What concepts/words are bolded? Make a list! Describe or define.
- What is the Reading (Blue) about? Who is the author? Write up or think about the Critical Reading Questions assigned with the Reading (Blue).
- Review the Highlights (Yellow) and think about how the content connects with the themes and Reading (Blue);
- Review the Activity (Pink) and work through the questions - we will cover some of these in our Monday classes
- Bring any questions you have to class!

2. QUIZES (10% Fall / Winter Terms)

Quiz 1 - October 17 - covers material from Chapters 1 and 2 of the text (Weeks 1-5)

Quiz 2 - February 13 - covers material from Weeks 1-5

Quizzes are "open book" and incorporate all learning from lectures, readings, films and class discussions. They are written online through our D2L course site. Further details will be provided in class.

3. MEDIA REVIEW (10% Fall Term)

Due Nov 21

This assignment requires that you read the news — not just your Instagram or Twitter feed, but a real newspaper — or newspaper web site. These should be national newspapers — I recommend free news sites such as: CBC (cbc.ca), The Guardian (theguardian.com), Aljazeera (aljazeera.com), or there are subscription sites such as The Globe & Mail (globeandmail.com), The New York Times (newyorktimes.com), The Washington Post (washingtonpost.com) or the weekly news magazine The Walrus (thewalrus.ca), or The Economist (economist.com), subscription required). As a sociology student, it's really important that you are aware of the events of the day.

Begin by selecting 2-3 articles on the same issue/topic (i.e. climate change, changing demographics, healthcare, education) from different news media sources. Undertake a close reading of the articles, thinking about how the issue connects to sociology using your "sociological imagination". Think about how the issue connects to you or people you know. Think about how the issue has been constructed over time. Has it changed? Why and how?

Then, in a short paper (1200 words or about 4-5 pages) build a description of the issue as told from the different news sources selected and undertake a critical analysis using your "sociological imagination". Connect your reading of the news articles to concepts covered in our course materials and to your own experiences. Be sure to provide a References page using ASA that lists each news article selected with the title of the article, the date it was published, the author and its weblink. Also, don't forget to reference any sociological concepts from our text. More details will follow in class.

4. PAPER PROPOSAL AND ANNOTATED BIBLIOGRAPHY - (15% Winter Term)

Due March 13

This is a two-part assignment, in which you will (1) develop a paper proposal for the research paper due in April, and (2) prepare an annotated bibliography (a list of potential sources, with a short description of the relevancy of each source). Support will be provided in class to help you complete this assignment. First, pick a topic of interest related to the field of Sociology: this might be a topic we've covered in class, or one not discussed in class (note: if you go with the second option here, it's a good idea to make an appointment with the instructor or GA to discuss your topic and ideas). This topic can be global or local in orientation, and either historical or contemporary – but do ensure the scope is narrow enough that you can write research paper about it in depth.

Paper Proposal: Develop a detailed 1-2 page outline of your paper including: (a) an introductory statement/short description of the chosen topic, (b) your research question, (c) a preliminary thesis statement, and (d) the key points you intend to use to prove your thesis. A good paper will have 3-4 key points used to prove the thesis. Together, these four components of your proposal will form the preliminary "skeleton" for your research essay.

Annotated Bibliography: In addition to the paper proposal, provide an annotated bibliography of potential sources to be used in your research essay. Using the library, you will find a variety of sources (including, but not limited to, books, journal articles, and internet sites) that could be useful in writing your paper. This requires that you critically think about the sources you find in order to evaluate whether or not they will be useful for your paper. The sources you identify should be provided in proper ASA citation style. Your annotation should include 4-5 sentences briefly describing the source and indicating how you think it works to prove your thesis.

You are encouraged to search broadly for potential sources. You need to ensure that all of your sources have a connection to your topic and that they are scholarly, academic sources.

Each bibliography must include at least six sources, based on the following breakdown:

- 2 books
- 2-4 journal articles from peer-reviewed academic journals
- 0-2 online sites (specific, educational sites related to your topic – not Wikipedia or the like. Look for websites ending in .edu and .org or containing .gov OR reputable newspaper and magazine articles relevant to your topic)

Note: Course materials (i.e., readings from our text) cannot be used for this assignment.

5. RESEARCH PAPER - (15% Winter Term)

Due April 5

Your final research paper builds upon the previous assignment (the Paper Proposal and Annotated Bibliography) submitted in March. Be sure to pay close attention to the feedback that you received on that assignment to ensure that you are able to produce your best work. (Note: changing your research paper topic after the proposal and bibliography are submitted is HIGHLY DISCOURAGED.)

Your research paper will be approximately 2,000 words (6-8 pages, double-spaced), plus a References page. Please follow the assignment guidelines above for formatting. Don't forget to give your paper a title and create a title page, and format your entire assignment in ASA style.

Your research paper should follow a similar format as identified in your paper proposal. The introductory section should include an introductory hook, a clearly stated research question, a thesis statement (what your main argument will be) and an indication of the key points or subtopics that will be addressed in the paper. In the main body of the paper, you should sequentially develop your key points, providing evidence throughout from the books and academic articles you have read on your topic. Each major topic should be a separate paragraph and all information in that paragraph should clearly link to the topic. Your paper should end with a conclusion that restates your main points and ties up your argument.

Proper referencing is mandatory for academic research papers. References must be given for all information you have taken from other sources, whether you are directly quoting or paraphrasing in your own words. Carefully check that all of your sources are fully cited in the body of the paper (author, year of publication and page number) and also that all of your sources are listed alphabetically and with full citation information in the References.

6. DECEMBER EXAM - 20%

Date TBA

The Winter Exam will be an “open book” exam that incorporates/encompasses all learning from lectures, readings, films and discussions. The exam will be written online, and you will write it in a three-hour block. Further details, and an exam review, will be provided in class.

OTHER IMPORTANT COURSE INFORMATION – Please read completely

Academic Dishonesty and Plagiarism: Plagiarism is a serious academic offence. Presenting an idea, words, or an exact phrase of another author as your own work constitutes plagiarism. Other instances of Academic Dishonesty, including but not limited to double submission (submitting your own work across courses, or within the same course), purchasing of assignments (either online or from another student on campus), or copying of assignments will be dealt with in accordance to the University regulations on Academic Dishonesty. All students are required to know what constitutes plagiarism and how to avoid it. To review the Student Code of Conduct-Academic Integrity, see this link and this link to review the policy on Academic Dishonesty.

Other Regulations: In taking this course, you are agreeing to the following statements,

(1) Copyright Compliance: “I understand and agree that all instructional, reference, and administrative materials to which I am given access in this course (the “course materials”), whether they consist of text, still or kinetic images, or sound, whether they are in digital or hard copy formats, and in whatever media they are offered, are protected in their entirety by copyright, and that to comply with this copyright and the law.

(a) Unless otherwise allowed by the course instructor, I must complete the assignments in this course without the assistance of anyone else.

(b) Unless otherwise allowed by the course instructor, I must not access any sources or materials (in print, online, or in any other way) to complete any course exam. I further understand and agree that, if I violate either of these two rules, or if I provide any false or misleading information about my completion of course assignments or exams, I may be prosecuted under the Lakehead University Student Code of Conduct – Academic Integrity, which requires students to act ethically and with integrity in academic matters and to demonstrate behaviours that support the University’s academic values.”
