Course Focus

We will focus in this course on the social context of the development and transformation of our education system. We will critically examine the impact of the complex interplay between the individual and the social structure of schooling, and of the broader social, economic, political and historical forces on gender, social class and racial groups.

- 4) Required (and recommended) additional readings—available online on the D2L (see for further details pp: 5-6).

Learning Outcomes

By the end of this course, students will be able to:

1. Analyze sociological theories and concepts related to education, and how they interpret educational inequality, the tension between democratic ideals and institutional practices;
2. Identify the role of education in (re)producing or challenging power dynamics;
3. Examine how systemic forces intersect with personal experiences within the education system to reinforce or challenge disparities rooted in gender, “race” and class;
4. Analyze the historical trajectories of educational systems and their entanglements with policy development and modes of economic production, highlighting the ways “race,” class, and gender have influenced and been influenced by these processes;
5. Evaluate the continuing impact of (neo)colonialism and capitalism on Indigenous groups and the strategies Indigenous people use to resist domination and assert autonomy;

 6. Investigate the deep-rooted and intergenerational trauma caused by residential schools and its ongoing influence on Indigenous educational access, engagement, and identity;
 7. Appraise how neoliberal and hegemonic influences on work policies and approaches deepen educational inequality and affect the quality of schooling.

Course Requirements

There are four (4) requirements for this course.

- Two Response Papers. Due dates: Oct. 23rd and Feb. 26th (2 @ 20% each) .....40%

Each response paper answers a specific question (or questions) in relation to my PowerPoint presentation(s) and reading material(s) for a specific date. More detail will be provided in class and on the Instruction page (D2L).

- Two Tests: Nov. 20th and March 26th..... (2 @ 20% each).....40%

The tests may include short answer/ short essay questions and multiple-choice questions. The tests cover all class work, my PowerPoints, and reading material to date.

- One Presentation.....10%

Students need to work together in groups and divide the work evenly among the members of their group for this assignment. Every group will consist of two students, and every group is required to do the following:

(A) In-Class Article-Presentation

Every group will be provided with (an) article(s) on the topic of crime from specific social science journals or books. The group is expected to present at least one article. The presenters should not only sum up the main argument(s)/viewpoint or idea(s) of the article, but also provide a critique of the article by making use of the concepts, theories and other materials covered in class. It is important that the presenters understand their article well and effectively communicate its content to the rest of the students. The presenters should be prepared to lead the discussion and answer questions regarding their topic. They may use overheads or any other prop that will improve their presentation.

(B) Short Film—In addition to the article, students may choose to include a short film, or parts of a film (up to 5 minutes) in order to facilitate understanding of a particular part of their topic.

(C) Community Involvement/Observation (to be incorporated in the presentation)

Further details will be provided in class.

4. Class Participation, and Critical Reflection.....10%

Class attendance is expected: In order to do well in this course, you must attend class on a regular basis. There will be substantial in-class discussions and much of the material covered in lectures will not be found in the reading. In order to participate in class discussions, it is important that you do the reading before coming to class. You must come to class ready to contribute to discussion in a thoughtful way, to ask questions, as well as critically reflect on the assigned readings.

More detail is given on the Instruction page and schedule of modules on the D2L.

ASSIGNMENT POLICIES:

- The response papers must be formatted according to the ASA (American Sociological Association) Style Guide for referencing and citations. For more information, see the following website:
https://www.lakeheadu.ca/sites/default/files/uploads/92/ASA\_Style\_4th\_ed\_0.pdf
- There is a penalty for response papers handed in late (2% per day).
- Plagiarism will not be tolerated and will be dealt with according to the University regulations. See for more details, Lakehead University New Student Code of Conduct: Academic Integrity: <https://www.lakeheadu.ca/students/student-life/student-conduct/academic-integrity>

GenAI Use

Read the Dean's policy (summarized) below and follow its guidelines.

GenAI tools must be used responsibly and ethically. The following information and guidelines apply to the use of AI-based tools in this course:

1. Student Responsibility – It is the responsibility of the student to understand the limitations of AI-based tools. While these tools can provide suggestions and insights, final decisions and critical thinking should come from the student's own understanding and effort.

2. Formative Usage – In this class, you may use GenAI for formative, but not summative, work. That means it can be used as a “possibility engine” (brainstorm tool), a “study buddy,” ...a “guide on the side,” a “personal tutor,” ...etc. to help you learn course content, but it cannot be used as the primary vehicle for any work that is submitted for marks or evaluation [in other words, you cannot copy-and-paste AI generated text into your own writing].

3. Error & Bias – AI learns from patterns and examples in data to generate content. If the data is biased or limited in scope, the AI may reproduce content that is inaccurate, incomplete, offensive, and/or biased.

4. Trustworthiness – Generative AI can generate fake news, misinformation, or deepfake content, which can have harmful consequences [hence, AI can be unreliable; it can include misinformation, disinformation and bias, make up writers, and plagiarize].

5. Plagiarism – Since writing and critical thinking ability are learning outcomes of this course, all work submitted for evaluation must be the student's original work. Using the work of others (including content curated/generated by AI) without proper citation is considered plagiarism. [you must then acknowledge any use of AI (including editing your writing).

6. Citation of Sources – If you use material generated by an AI program for an assignment in this course, it must be cited like any other source (with due consideration for the quality of the source, which may be judged as poor) [see ASA on citing generative AI]. Failure to do so will be considered a violation of academic integrity. See Student Code of Conduct – Academic Integrity.

Further, the student will be given additional information concerning course topics, course requirements, evaluation procedures and any other relevant material on Sept 2nd.
